A look at the horoscope would reveal 360° -- Ideas in the Nous; and in their totality can be conceived as a single entity or monad. These Ideas which are beyond--and the reference is not spatial--are associated with certain portions of the stars and referred to as the zodiac: Universal

The object of knowledge for the soul incarnating here is the world ideogram which is given to an individual mind. This original world-thought is transparently lucid and subtle and a constantly metamorphizing logical unity or whole of its own intellectuality or the ideas which are the same as the 360 degrees. Astronoesis

Here we are stating that the totality of these reason principles [(the 360 degrees)], are being arranged and combined in an indefinite variety of ways by the intermediary powers of the soul according to the ideas in the Zodiac

There are many levels of meaning from the ideas hidden in the symbolism of the degrees, which we have referred to as the basic presuppositions and attitudes that are the person. These basic ideas orient a person towards certain goals in his life and this activity furthers the contemplation carried on by the mind. This contemplation or "in-seeing" is the silent assimilation of those reasons which the second soul is garnering from the experiences in the sensible, because it could not achieve it directly in the Intellectual realm.

“The God in the Sun is the I in me”

ANTHONY ON 360 Gods audio/text 2 minutes

AD: I keep trying to point out that the 360 degrees or Gods or archetypes, that this is the Earth's soul interpretation of the Celestial Ideas. They're really quite awesome. they create everything here, everything in our world is the result of their let's say ideation or thinking. So when you reach that level of contemplation, any one of these ideas might reveal itself and it would be, we would say, the presence of a God. 9/14/83

ANTHONY ON 360 and I thought audio/text 2 min

The soul or the mind, the reproductive phase of the soul which comes into incarnation, assumes as its first thought this totality of 360 degrees as its thought, the I-thought; this is what makes you think that you are an “I” here.

The true 'I' is only what we refer as the I AM, the Overself, it is immaterial, it's Mind per se. But when that 'I' incarnates, in order to have some kind of being, by embracing the totality of the 360 gods, the Void nature of these 360 gods, this becomes the first of its thoughts

That desire for earthly embodiment has no substance; it acquires this substance when it embraces the 360 degrees. Now it has standing substance or actual being, and it refers to this as its 'I'. 9/14/83

360 gods: following the paradigm of Nous

Each degree is a unique form of the whole intelligence, a hologram of all 360 the pattern of universe is repeated in each.

Each degree is a whole mandala --a spectrum of intelligence... radiates a spectrum of vibrational frequency.

We can illustrate the 12-fold of a degree with the aspects to the natal degree, and transits.

Wisdom of the Cosmic Soul... and you become wisdom

Each degree is a whole mandala. Each connects to 22 paths: when you move attention to another degree, then THAT is the center of the mandala... the focus.

each degree is a hologram of all 360. Each degree is a whole mandala. Each degree gives off a spectrum of vibrational frequency. can illustrate the 12-fold of a degree.... With the aspects to the natal degree, and transits.

The higher self keeps the same kind of individuality without being separate that each facet of a diamond keeps. 22.3.399

The dictionary defines individuality as separate and distinct existence. Both the ego and the Overself have such an existence. But whereas the ego has this and nothing more, the Overself has this consciousness within the universal existence. That is why we have called it the higher individuality.

The purpose of life, according to Plotinus, is the acquisition of true knowledge

The astrological chart can and does reveal the specific ideas being manifested by that life and assimilated by the individual mind towards that goal. This is the fundamental spiritual nature of astrology.

There are many levels of meaning from the ideas hidden in the symbolism of the degrees, which we have referred to as the basic presuppositions and attitudes that are the person.

These basic ideas orientate a person towards certain goals in his or her life, and this activity furthers the contemplation carried on by the mind. This contemplation or “in-seeing” is the silent assimilation of those reasons by the second soul from the experiences in the sensible; it is garnering them here because it could not achieve that assimilation directly in the Intellectual realm.

Plotinus goes on to say that the purpose of the journey through the cosmic circuit is to acquire some good. What possible good could this be? It is the acquisition of those ideas by the mind—the second soul—to complete the vision resident in the logos.

Purpose: 7/15/83]

It is these ideas or gods of the planetary mind that are the very substance or stuff included in the organization of the psychosomatic organism and the vehicles used by souls to understand the world idea. Thus the soul is a receptacle of the gods. Now the powers of the undivided mind of the earth which is symbolized by the Chaldean planets and represented by our instinctual functioning organize those ideas into specific and adventitious unities--i.e., psychosomatic organisms. 1/6/84

4. MEAN-ING

"In the degree symbolism there is inextricably buried a hierarchy of meanings: that is, significances attached to the tropes' functioning." (Astronoesis, and 5/27/83)

MEAN-ING

AD: The way I understand astrology is on this basis: that every individual in so far that they are an individual, a part of the World Idea, there is a meaning in their life, a pattern of events, situations, circumstances. There is a growth of understanding that's taking place because of the interaction of this person with the world. ... When you understand astrology you can see how the meaning, the pattern of events, are so peculiar to this individual and no one else. ... in this way astrology can be a really spiritually potent tool, so that the person could try to be aware of what significances are blossoming as their life. We're living these ideas, we are these ideas, why not try to consciously understand what is going on?

The chart makes available in its deific imagery a formulation by reason-principles of a symbolic method through which these very reason principles are being manifested. The symbolism reveals a topography of the subtle world, including those reason principles operative in the individual mind itself. Astronoesis if you really penetrate into the meaning of the events and circumstances that are going on in your life, you are getting at the quintessence of the meaning of your life to you. And I thought that this was really the fundamental purpose of astrology, that this is what astrology should help a person to understand. Never mind if you are going to meet your beloved, or if you are going to make money
